King Frog

"Quibbit! Quibbit!" The frogs all croak loudly over each other. The pond is a flurry of commotion and excitement because today is the day of the Royal Frog Race when they race around the pond to decide who will be crowned the new King Frog. King Frog is a fast-paced game about frogs moving around the pond. Players try to stay in the game for as long as possible and to land on the right spot, because today the new King of the Frogs will be chosen. Spatial thinking, clever planning and a bit of luck make King Frog an engaging game for two to four players aged seven years and up. King Frog takes about 15 minutes to play. The game is artful, fun and develops strategic thinking, so it is a must-try for all young players.

Maze Racers

Players use magnetic walls and a good dose of creativity to build the most wicked maze that will leave their opponent scrambling to find their way out. Maze Racers is also a race against time as from the moment a player has finished their maze, the opponent is left with one minute to finish theirs. When the time is up, both sides swap their maze boards and a furious race starts! By tilting their board, each player steers a ball through the maze as quick as they can in an effort to complete it first. Be the fastest in 2 of 3 rounds to claim victory!

Restock: Rhino Hero

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's Super Rhino! No building too high, no street too dangerous for this caped crusader, as he scales buildings and patrols the city protecting the citizens. On his quest for safety, he must use caution as even the most solid buildings may start to sway and wobble. Can you help Super Rhino accomplish the challenge to build a skyscraper as tall and solid as can be?

Star Wars Cluedo

It's the Clue game transported to the world of Star Wars. In this game, it's a period of civil war, and players have managed to sneak onto the Empire's ultimate weapon, the Death Star! Be the first player to find out which planet Darth Vader plans to destroy next, which room the Death Star plans are hidden in, and which vehicle is the correct escape vehicle. The cards revealing the correct planet, room, and vehicle are placed in the mission folder at the beginning of the game -- no one sees what these are until the end.

The player who correctly identifies what's in the folder wins!

Restock: Animal Upon Animal

Crocodiles, frilled lizards, sheep, toucans and monkeys, hedgehogs and snakes... you'll never find such a motley mix of animals in any other game, and it's celebrating its 10th anniversary: Animal Upon Animal from HABA! The entertaining stacking game was first released in 2005 and has since sold over 600,000 copies! One of HABA's most popular games, this game is a winner of the Major Fun! Award and recipient of the Mr. Dad Seal of Approval. Players race each other to be the first to place all of their wooden animals upon the animal pile before any of the other players. A roll of the die tells the players how many animals can be placed or whether they can add to the alligator base. This game fosters hand-eye coordination and fine motor skills.

Animal Upon Animal: Small Yet Great

Roarrrrr! The Animal Pyramid World Championships are under way. There are only two minutes left before the starting whistle is blown for the grand finale. Only the one with nimble fingers, who can skillfully stack the animals on each other, will win this duel! One by one you try to stack your animals on top of each other, without any of them falling off. The die indicates how many animals can be stacked, where and who shall stack them. The aim of the game is to be the first to stack all your animals on the animal pyramid. Includes 13 animals (2 of each: kangaroo, frog, duck, hedgehog, butterfly, polar bear and 1 crocodile), 1 die with symbols and set of game instructions.

Each piece except the crocodile is about one inch (2.5 cm) long. The crocodile is about two and a half inches (6.25 cm) long. They are considerably smaller than the pieces for Animal Upon Animal.

Restock: Clumsy Witch

Clumsy Witch brews her notorious potion. However, that's not so easy as the scatty witch often forgets which ingredients she has already put in the cauldron and which ones are still missing. The players have to help her find the missing ingredients. But only the quickest one gets a magic potion as a reward.

Looping Louie

In Loopin' Louie, a battery-powered motor placed in the center of the table rotates a boom with a little plastic plane. Four radial arms lead out to the players' barns and the chickens they're trying to protect. Each barn has a little lever, which is used to knock the rotating plane away from your chickens and hopefully into someone else's. When only one player has chickens remaining, he or she wins the game. Very silly and very addictive.

Oh Captain!

There was barely time to get your bearings before your Captain began barking orders. You vaguely remember being tossed off your ship in the middle of a storm and mysteriously rescued by a giant sea creature that brought you here, to its den on an exotic island. Now, you and the rest of the crew are combing through the dark, looking for hidden treasure to bring back to the Captain. This treasure is very valuable to the Nomads who roam this land, and the Captain plans to sell the loot found for a considerable profit. Your crew mates know this too, and the mutinous look in their eyes tells you they haven't been completely honest with their offerings to your fearless leader. It's only a matter of time before everyone starts turning on each other—who can you trust?
